See Jones—Orders for work executed at this office with neatness and dispatch.

The foreign news by telegraph is very important. The allies have been repulsed with a heavy loss.

The French—The streets on Wednesday appeared to be perfectly deserted. All the stores were closed and business suspended. Our citizens generally availed themselves of the facilities offered by the different railroad companies in spending the day in the country. The Jefferson and Franklin trains were crowded with passengers. We are happy to say that we heard of no accidents in the city or its vicinity.

It was decidedly the best observed and at the same time the quietest National Anniversary that has ever been celebrated in Louisville.

The balloon—The balloon ascension, which was to have taken place on Wednesday, did not come off. Mrs. Emery had made a contract with the Gas Company for sufficient gas to inflate the balloon, but owing to a leakage in the gas pipes or some other cause, the quantity of gas needed was not forthcoming. Mrs. Emery offered the company a large bonus to let him have all the gas he needed beyond his contract, but they could not be prevailed upon to do so. It could not be spared without interfering with the supply for the city. We are satisfied that Mrs. Emery did everything possible to make the ascension, and we are sure that she will not regret a want of energy or desire on his part. Mrs. E. has promised to make an ascension next week.

We are very sorry to say that some disgraceful proceedings were marked on the grounds. Thousands were assembled in and outside of the grounds. After waiting for several hours, a number of ignorant chancers, others who were not even of the age of majority, were allowed to run for ticket box, captured it, tore down the fence, and rushed in with the evident intention of cutting the balloon. The prompt steps taken by the police, however, who were assisted by the mayor and several citizens, put a stop to the object. The crowd, as we have said before, were mostly from the outside, who had not paid a farthing.

We are indebted to the steamer T. C. Twissell and Southern for letters.
